THE LUCKY SISTERS

RACHAEL JOHNS

What would you do if you thought every day on earth might be your last?

Lucky by name. Not so lucky by nature.

Adopted twins Nora and Stevie Lucky have always been close, despite being total opposites.

When their mother dies, Nora convinces Stevie to search for their biological parents, only to uncover a shocking secret that sends them spiralling in opposite directions.

With their careers, love lives and even their sisterly bond at risk, they're going to need more than luck to survive.

THE CAIRO BRIDAL SHOP

TESS WOODS

What dark secrets hide beneath the veil?

The Albi sisters run a bridal shop at the foothills of the pyramids of Giza.

Sarah, is struggling with infertility and IVF which has put a strain on her marriage to her husband Gamal. To make matters worse, Sarah's mother-in-law is manipulating Gamal into considering taking on a 'better' second wife who will be able to give him a child.

Middle sister, Aya, is a journalist on the cusp of an exciting new relationship and must decide if she's prepared to risk losing everything to follow her heart.

Youngest sister realises that if she wants to live an authentic life, it may mean leaving behind everything and everyone she loves to start over in a new country.

THE VENICE HOTEL

TESS WOODS

Where secrets hide behind every door

Set at a boutique Venice hotel, this deliciously twisty novel by acclaimed Australian author is ideal for fans of Nine Perfect Strangers and The White Lotus.

When the lives of four very different women become entangled in a boutique Venice hotel, dark secrets unravel and not everyone who checked into the hotel will check out again.

Signora Loretta Bianchi is forced to choose between once-in-a-lifetime passion and her devoted husband.

Sophie, on assignment in Venice as a food writer, finds a lot more than Signora Bianchi's secret recipes to love, but what is the charming Rocco hiding?

Law graduate Elena is sinking just like the endangered city she's returned home to, and she'll stop at nothing to be free from her marriage. Grandmother Gayle's dream Venetian holiday turns sinister as she finds herself embroiled in a life or death escape.

THE SEX LIVES OF MARRIED WOMEN

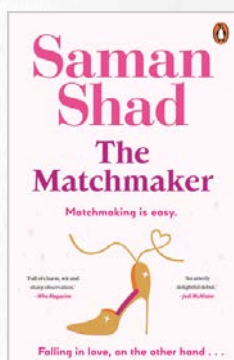

SAMAN SHAD

Secrets, struggles, desires, sacrifices

Meena escaped her 'model migrant' family life in Australia and built an exciting career in PR in London. She loved her boyfriend Owen, but he could never quite commit to their relationship. When she accidentally falls pregnant, they both fall in love with baby Sasha and bravely head to Sydney to build a family life. But now Sasha is nine and Owen barely looks at Meena.

After a whirlwind romance Sophie throws in her rising career in New York and follows Todd to Sydney. She committed to being the perfect wife, lover and mother, found some friends, including her BFF Meena and now Todd is looking for a tree change? Arriving in Australia as an international student, Rani managed to make only a couple of friends. Now Priya is dead, her son Ali is demanding, and Daniyal comes homes from work later and later. A determination to bring some pleasure to her life sets off a huge fight with her husband. Can they recover? A marriage begins with two people. When you add children to the mix, sometimes the adults forget why they came together. When Meena and Sophie meet Rani at the lowest point in her lives, cue confessions, advice, misunderstandings, laughter and endless support.

THE OCCUPATION

CHLOE ADAMS

WINNER OF THE PENGUIN LITERARY PRIZE 2024

In the autumn of 1949, two women convene in the parlour of an upmarket Melbourne hotel. At first glance, this is nothing more than a casual social engagement. But the miasma of ladies' perfume and clink of teacups hides something far bleaker. One woman, Tess, is married and childless, while the other, Mary, is unwed and pregnant. Over the course of the next thirty minutes, Mary agrees to a life-altering pact to hand over her child.

One year earlier . . . an Australian naval ship makes its way down Japan's astonishingly beautiful inland sea. It's destined for the ruined port of Kure where many thousands of Australians, working under the auspices of the Americans, have established an occupation of the Hiroshima prefecture. There, 29-year-old Mary Vaughan finds a carefree expat world where parties, picnics and touring are the norm, while the local people are diminished and dehumanised. Quickly though, Mary's idealised notion of the campaign falls apart, and she begins to wrestle with a growing uncertainty about the Allies' decision to drop the atom bomb.

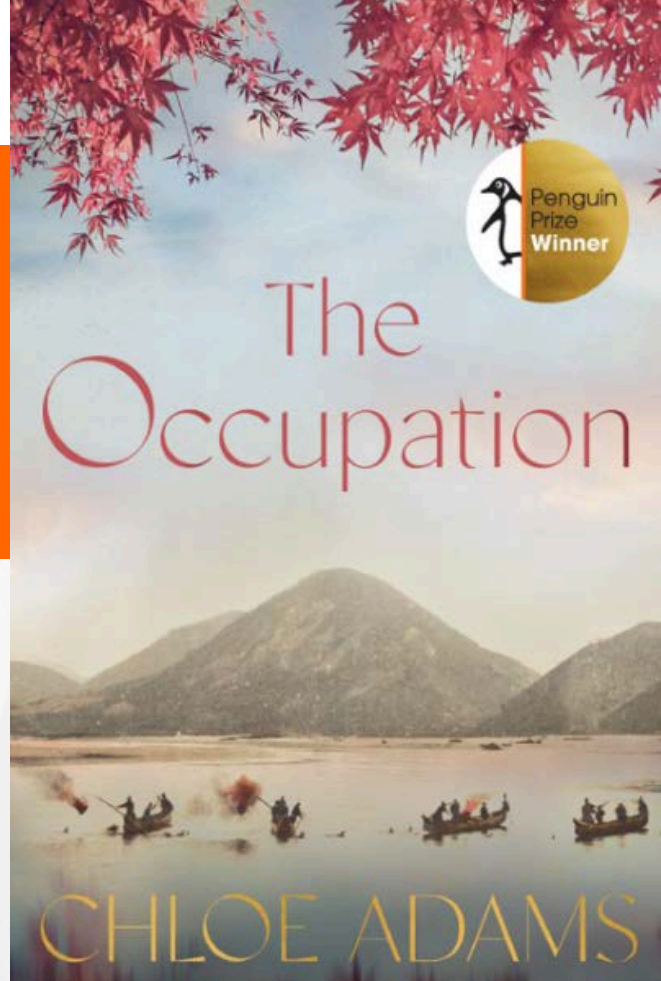

Once home, Mary feels the echo of occupation in her own life as she fights to keep her unborn child in a society hell-bent on possessing her.

POSSIBLE SPRINGS SAMANTHA ROSS

A town teeming with dark secrets

Jimny Adams should have died on that hot summer day in 1987 in the remote goldrush town of Possible Springs. Only eleven at the time, she was saved from drowning by her schoolteacher, Mr Cross.

Seven years on, and she has grown into a watchful, quirky eighteen-year-old - her near-death experience having left her with the ability to see inside people's thoughts, but only when music is playing.

It's an unwelcome gift that she tries desperately to hide: from her parents Jude and Duncan, from her best friends Tiffany and Eva, from everyone in town. In such a tight-knit community, being different means becoming a pariah.

However Possible Springs is actually a town teeming with dark secrets. And with her ability to read other people's thoughts, Jimny is closer than she would like to discovering its truth .

Discover a spellbinding tale that seamlessly blends coming-of-age drama with gripping mystery, all set against the evocative backdrop of a small Australian town in the 1990s.

Set against the nostalgic backdrop of nineties music, and peopled with a cast of outstanding characters, Possible Springs mixes small-town mystery and supernatural romance into an intoxicating debut novel.

LAST BREATH

EMMA PIGNATIELLO

Only the truth - or a ruthless killer - can tear them apart

Jett Randall has never felt at home anywhere. By his own rules, he should have left his job driving for the Barbarani family years ago, but something – or someone – has kept him there.

Nella Barbarani believes she doesn't deserve a happily ever after. Since her family fell apart, she's avoided anyone she's related to and embraced her nepo-baby label. But when a rival wine-making family hits the Barbarani Estate with a lawsuit that could destroy Nella's life, she's forced to let Jett bring her home.

When the Barbaranis' lawyer is found dead in Nella's law firm offices, Jett has to step in as her bodyguard while she takes over the case. As Nella digs into the lawsuit, buried family secrets emerge. The closer Nella gets to the truth, the more she dreads confirming her worst fears, and she refuses to drag Jett into their corruption – or onto a killer's radar.

Can the villain in everyone else's story become the hero in her own?

IN THE LONG RUN

EMMA MUGGLESTONE

A spicy run club romance

A steamy fake-dating run club romance from award-winning author Emma Mugglestone.

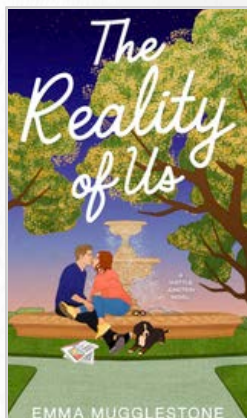

Genevieve Halliday is escaping her ex when she asks a handsome stranger to pretend they're on a date. After an awkward almost-kiss, she decides to take control of her life by signing up for a marathon and joining her sister's new running club.

Army officer Knox Watson is always on the move, trying to escape his family's past. When his godfather's patisserie is in danger of closing, he rushes back to Melbourne to save it.

Enter the Croissants and Kilometres run club, a win-win for both Gen and Knox. Sparks fly, but the club is only so popular because everyone ships their chemistry. Can they keep up the ruse to meet their goals? And will they admit that their fake romance is turning real?

It might just take reaching the 32-kilometre mark for them to let their guards down and cross the finish line together.

FIGHT FOR US

LAUREN JACKSON

A steamy vampire romantasy with a mystery to solve

A captive seeking freedom, a host uncovering secrets, and a stalker closing in. Can they outrun their enemies?

THE CAPTIVE

I've been locked away, hidden from the world, but I refuse to be a prisoner any longer. The secrets I've uncovered could change everything, and I must escape to reveal the truth. I will fight for my freedom, no matter the cost.

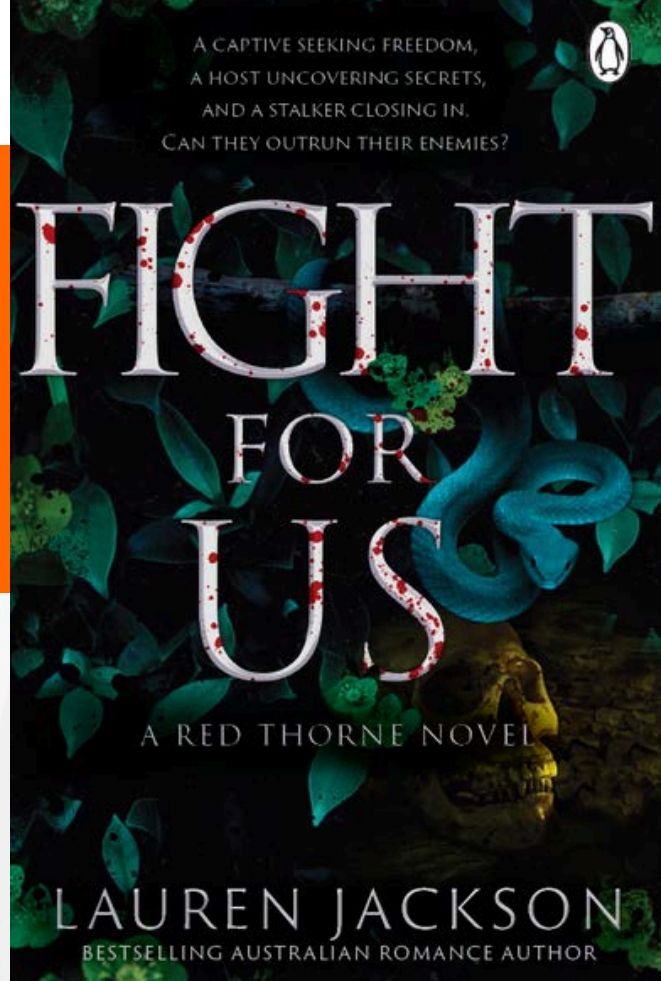

THE HOST

Hosting a fugitive was never part of the plan, but now I'm entangled in a web of lies and danger. The more I learn, the more I realise how deep the conspiracy runs. Protecting him means risking everything, but I can't turn back now. Together, we must uncover the secrets that could save us both.

THE STALKER

I've been watching, waiting for the perfect moment to strike. They think they can hide from me, but I see everything. Their every move brings them closer to their doom. I will hunt them down, and they will pay for their defiance. No one escapes my grasp.

VOW OF ETERNAL NIGHT

LILY CROZIER

A spellbinding narrative of enchantment, danger and the transformative power of love

A gothic romantasy Beauty and the Beast retelling in which a woman must cure a prince of his vampirism before the year is out, or become his bride for eternity – from a debut Australian author with a BookTok following

In the heart of the Holy Roman Empire lies Rostenburg, a realm ruled by the enigmatic vampire prince, Raleigh Linford. For nine years, the town of Orlfen has suffered under his reign. When Clara Wagner, the scholarly daughter of the mayor, is taken by Raleigh as punishment, she faces a chilling ultimatum: cure him of his vampirism before the year ends, or become his bride for eternity.

As Clara delves into ancient tomes and forbidden lore, she discovers the tragic depths of Raleigh's past and the dark grip of the vampire queen who enslaved him. Amidst ambushes and betrayals, a slow-burning passion ignites between them, challenging their notions of love and redemption.

Will Clara and Raleigh break the curse, or will they be bound together in eternal night?

THE BAD BRIDESMAID

RACHAEL JOHNS

Classic friends to lovers romance!

When serial dater Winifred Darling – Fred – is asked to be the maid of honour at her mother’s sixth wedding, she’s determined to do everything in her power to stop it. As the author of a forthcoming book called 21 Rules for Not Catching Feelings, she knows better than most about the perils of falling in love.

On arrival at the island wedding destination, Fred is delighted to discover that the groom’s hot muso son Leo is just as set against the wedding as she is. Together, they come up with ‘Operation Break-Up’ to prevent their parents from making what they believe will be a catastrophic mistake.

But as Fred and Leo get to know each other better, their unexpected feelings for each other create further complications, and Fred is forced to rethink her own rigid rules about romance and family. Maybe not every relationship has to play by the book, and could Fred become the star in a rom-com of her own?

A heart-warming friends-to-lovers romance about the magic and mayhem of weddings – and what happens when everything you thought you knew about love is turned upside down.

CHRISTMAS JOY

MARY-ANNE O'CONNOR

At this most joyful time of year, will Joy finally receive the gift of true love?

Prudence Parker always considered her name to be a curse. Since the loss of her husband, she has been forced into a prudent life in every way and the Parker family have struggled to make ends meet. When Prudence named her daughter, Joy, it was in the hope that her life would be blessed with happiness.

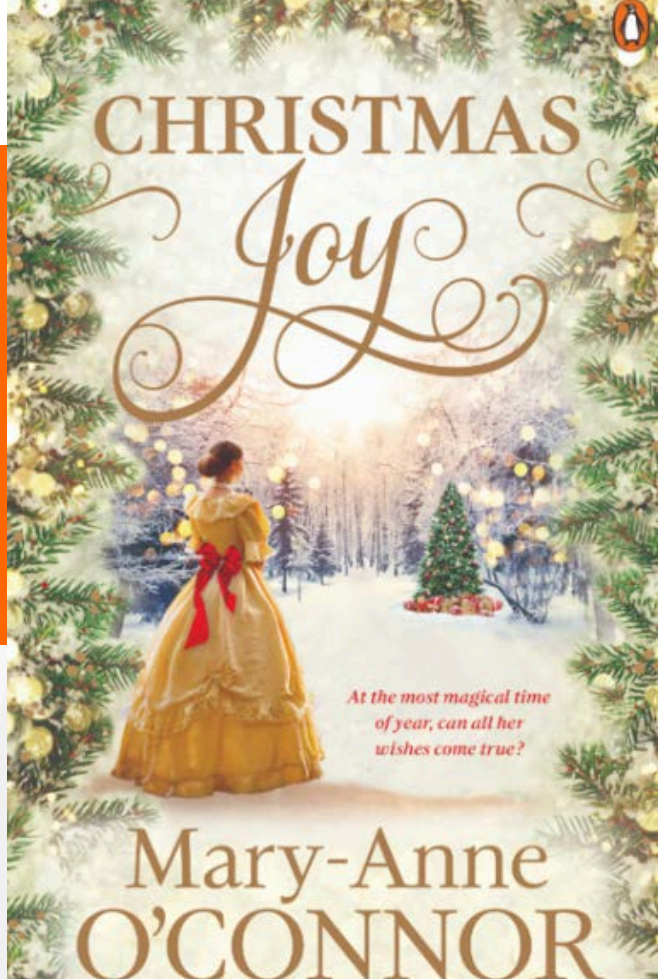

When Joy is forced to leave school at a young age to help the family survive, she finds a way to see the positive side of things. She always tries to live up to her name, doing everything with joy, including working as a companion for Hyacinth Montague – a cantankerous woman as tight with money as she is with a kind word. Somehow, Joy manages to make herself indispensable to Hyacinth and soon finds herself in charge of Christmas at Highgrove.

As the snow falls on this picturesque village on Christmas Eve, Joy sprinkles her own brand of comfort and love on everyone around her, sacrificing her own heart in the process.

I've spent the last few years solving murders. But being caught in a bank heist is a new one, even for me. I've certainly never been a hostage before. And the thief's demands are bizarrely simple: one dollar.

UK (PRH), North America (HarperCollins), Italy (Feltrinelli), Germany (Ullstein), Spain & Catalan (Editoria Planeta), Brazil (Editoria Intrinseca), France (Sonatine), Romania (Editura Trei), Hungary (Agave Könyvek Kiadó Kft), Ukraine (VIVAT), Latvia (Liegra), Bulgaria (Ciela Norma), Czech Republic (Euromedia), Poland (Foskal), Türkiye (Altın Kitaplar), Lithuania (Baltos Lankos), Portugal (LeYa), Japan (K.K. HarperCollins Japan), Korea (Book 21), China (New Star Press), Taiwan (Spring International), Thailand (Biblio Co.), Egypt (Aseer Al-Kotob) and Israel (Keter Books)

Then someone in the bank is murdered, and the hostages become the suspects - which means releasing them could let a killer go free.

So I take it on myself to keep the robbery going. No matter what. I guess that means I'm now robbing the bank.

The problem is: more than one person planned to rob the bank today. Turns out, you can steal more than just money.

Why rob a bank for a single dollar? Who is stealing what? And are they willing to kill for it? Seven suspects.

THE DEADLY DISPUTE

AMANDA HAMPSON

Solving crimes, one cup of tea at a time

Murder and Mayhem on the waterfront.

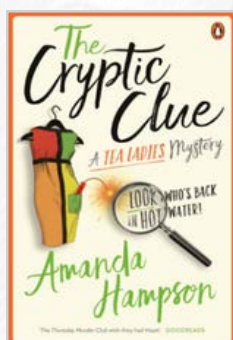

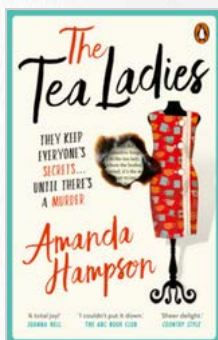

1967: Hazel's new job at the docks quickly turns perilous when she stumbles into the criminal underworld that lurks beneath the surface. A million in gold coins has vanished from a cargo ship and a dead body washed up. Suddenly, she's in over her head.

Disillusioned with her life, Betty is led astray by a charismatic new friend and finds herself exposed in more ways than one – until a crisis drags her back to reality.

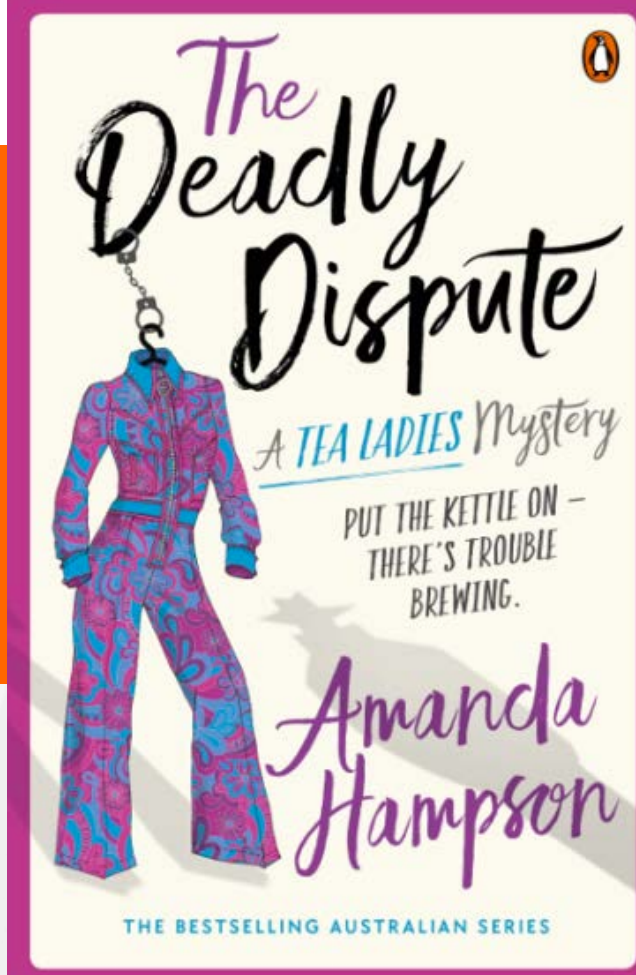

Living in a high-class brothel, Irene gets wind of a threat that could destroy her livelihood. She takes on the Maltese mafia and becomes involved in a dangerously sticky situation.

When one of the tea ladies disappears, they face their greatest challenge yet, pushing their detective skills to the limit. It will take more than a glass of Hazel's homemade wine to solve this one.

AN ILL WIND

MARGARET HICKEY

A small town divided. Secrets blown apart.

High on a hill above the small Victorian town of Carrabeen, 300 wind turbines constantly spin. Except one is now deadly still – a body hanging from its huge white blade.

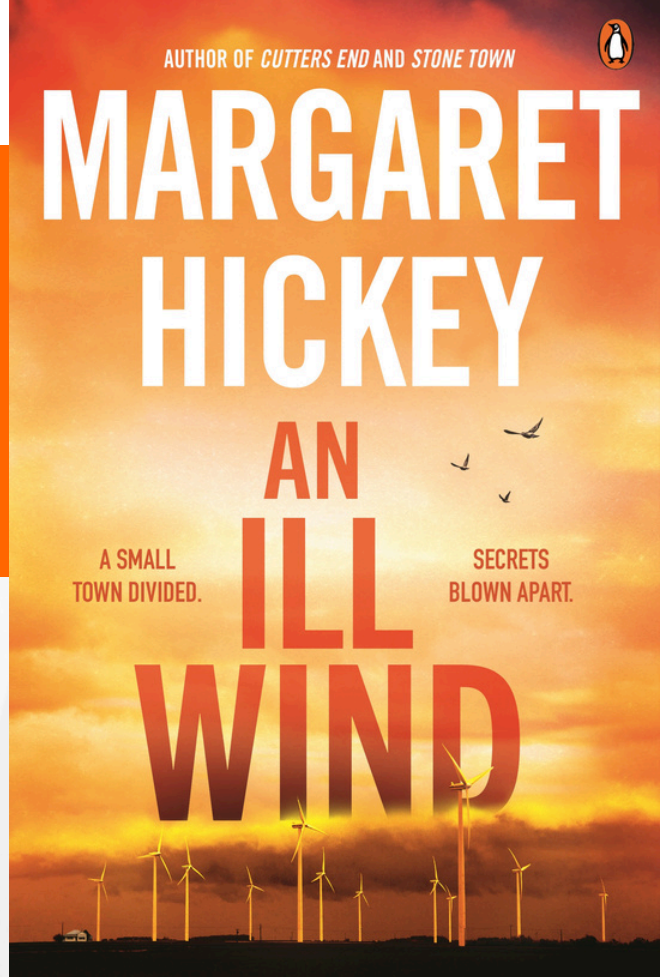

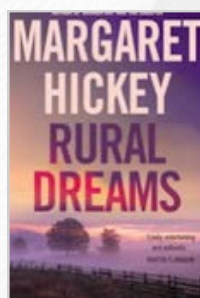

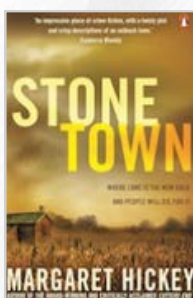

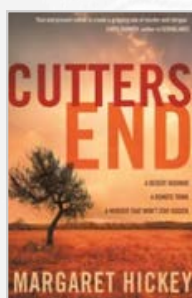

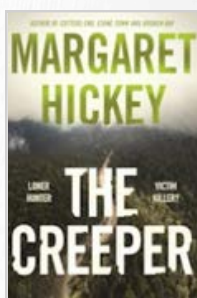

Detective Sergeants Belinda Burney and Will Lovell are shocked to discover the dead man is Geordie Pritchard, a rich local philanthropist and owner of the wind energy farm.

Suicide at first seems the likely explanation, until Geordie’s widow Lucinda insists her husband was murdered – and she has the death threats to prove it.

Certainly, the wind farm has ripped the rural town in two. Some welcome the jobs and prosperity it brings, others are enraged by the loss of farming land.

In short, Pritchard was both saint and sinner. But who in the small community hated him enough to want him dead?

WHEN THE DEEP DARK DARK BUSH SWALLOWS YOU WHOLE

Geoff Parkes

A missing woman. A townful of suspects.

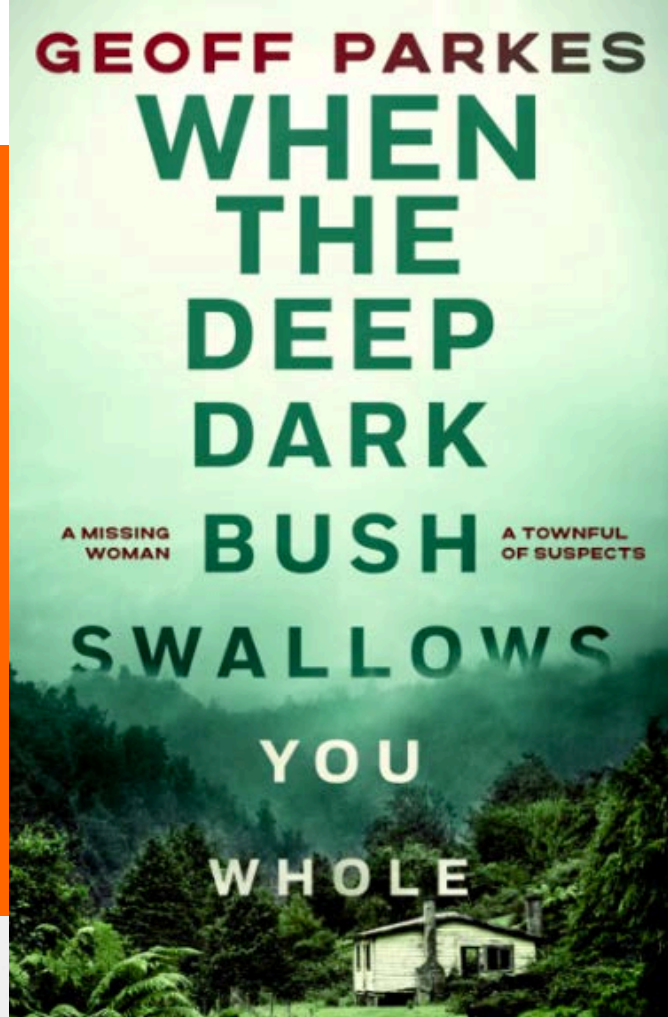

She wasn't the first and she wouldn't be the last; swallowed into the deep, dark recesses of the King Country bush, never to be seen again.

It's January 1983. During his university summer break, Ryan Bradley returns to the remote town of Nashville in New Zealand's rugged King Country.

It's a bittersweet trip: he's working long, punishing hours as a woolpresser, he needs to sell his late mother's house, and he's increasingly feeling like an outcast in his childhood town.

But mostly he's haunted by memories of Sanna Sovernen, a Finnish backpacker and his secret lover, who worked with him in the shearing shed the summer before - then vanished without trace. Now Sanna's sister Emilia has arrived from Finland, determined to get answers - and as he's the workmate who reported Sanna missing, she wants Ryan's help. Because Emilia knows her sister was not the first female traveller in the area to disappear . . .

A stunning, atmospheric debut crime novel and a very exciting debut.

BURNING MOUNTAIN DARCY TINDALE

Five friends went up. Four came down.

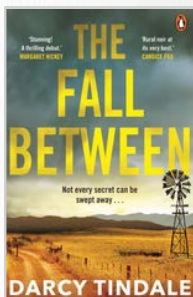

In April 2006, fifteen-year-old Oliver went hiking to the lookout on Burning Mountain – and vanished without trace.

His schoolfriends – Bob, Bell, Phil and Paul – were the last ones to see him on the trek, yet the teenagers were never able to explain his disappearance.

Twenty years later, Detective Rebecca Giles is called to bushland on nearby Mount Wingen. There a skull has been dug up, reviving the mystery that has haunted the Upper Hunter area for years.

Giles is convinced that they have finally found the missing boy, and that his four friends – all now in their mid-thirties – have always known much more than they revealed. In particular, about the argument that caused Oliver to head down the mountain on his own. But when Detective Rebecca Giles discusses the case with her father, retired Superintendent Benjamin Giles, another suspect is thrown into the mix. One that for Rebecca is uncomfortably close to home . . .

THE DOPAMINE BRAIN

ANASTASIA HRONIS

Balance pleasure and purpose!

Have you ever felt like you're lacking control over certain habits?

Are you curious about the neuroscience behind addictive behaviours?

What if you could understand how the brain works, and use that knowledge to regain control over your habits and lead a more fulfilling life?

Sex, shopping, eating, social media, drugs and gambling are just some of the things that can trigger a release of dopamine, a neurotransmitter in the brain that is involved in the brain's reward system. The overindulgence of certain pursuits can disrupt the level of dopamine in our brain, which can steer us towards habits that do not align with our core values.

Fortunately, The Dopamine Brain, by clinical psychologist and founder of the Australian Institute of Human Wellness Dr Anastasia Hronis, offers a clear and practical way to help people find balance and harmony in their lives.

Clinical psychologist and founder of the Australian Institute for Human Wellness Dr Anastasia Hronis lifts the lid on dopamine to help us live by intention, not impulse.

A USER'S GUIDE TO THE MIND

PROF IAN HICKIE
AND JAMES
O'LOGHLIN

Strategies for a better you

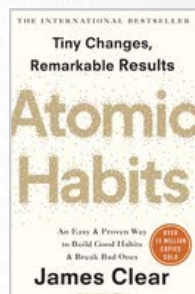

How do we achieve deeper happiness, better relationships and a life lived according to our values?

Drawing from topics covered in their popular mental health podcast Minding Your Mind, psychiatrist Ian Hickie and broadcaster and author James O'Loghlin bring their signature compassion, curiosity, intelligence and humour, to this practical 'user's guide' to our evolving mind and selves.

Feelings of anxiety, stress, self-doubt, loss, longing and stagnation are inevitable, but those times are also opportunities to find out what works for us, so that we can flourish.

Whether you're looking for practical tools to carry with you through the tough times, or want to develop an overall strategy for lasting mental wellbeing, A User's Guide to the Mind meets you wherever you are along life's journey.

FIGURING OUT THIRTY

BRIDGET HUSTWAITE

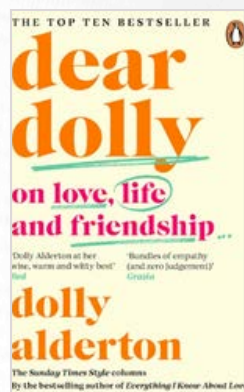

Explore the chaos, confusion and clarity that comes with turning 30 in this refreshingly honest and reassuring account

Figuring Out Thirty covers the big questions we ask ourselves as the defining decade looms. How do we know the decisions we're making for our futures are the right ones for us, and not what society expects of us? Is marriage still relevant, and how do we decide if we want to have children – and when? Do our dream careers have expiration dates? And why do our friendships hit different now?

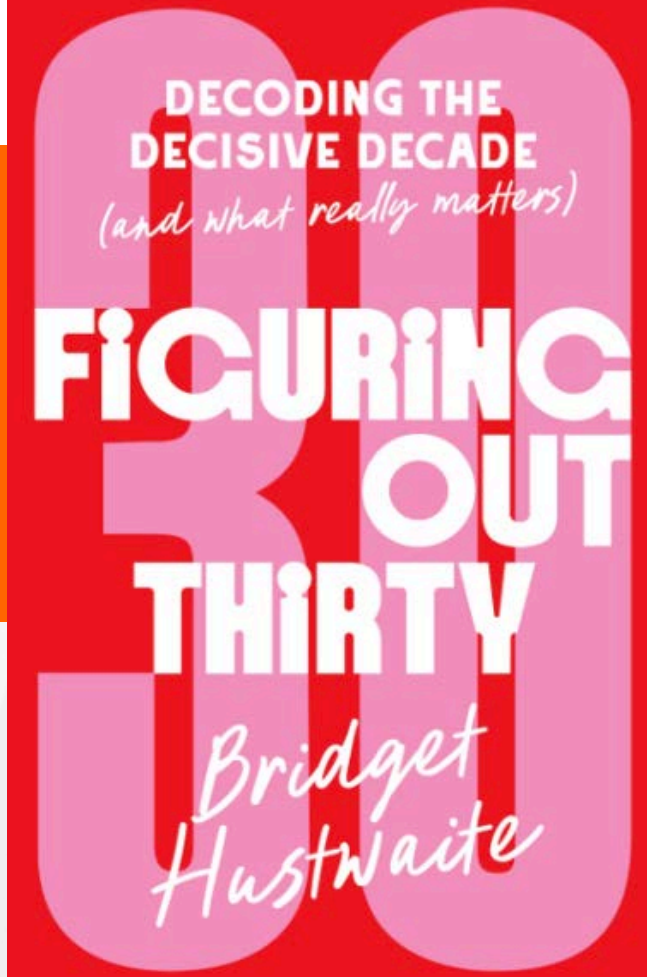

In her characteristically warm and relatable style, Bridget brings together collected wisdom from her hit podcast of the same name to deliver wide-ranging perspectives on crossing the threshold from our twenties to our thirties, and all that comes with it.

Along the way she shares her frank, hard-earned lessons about what really matters at this time in our lives, and how we can navigate the ups and downs while staying true to ourselves. As you'll discover, there is magic to be found in things not going exactly to plan.

THE FOURTH TRIMESTER AMELIA LAMONT

A must-have guide to the all-important first twelve weeks after your baby is born by midwife, mother and certified sleep consultant

After all the build-up and focus on pregnancy and birth, the fourth trimester is often swept aside. But as every new mum knows, the first twelve weeks after birth are possibly the most challenging and important part of becoming a mum. Amelia Lamont's book ensures you don't have to go through them alone.

Topics include:

- the birth and the very start of the fourth trimester
- the first day and night at home and how to prepare for them
- milk and all the different methods of feeding
- health checks and keeping track of vital health milestones
- the importance of sleep and how to get it
- finding your groove and maintaining your mental health and wellbeing.

Funny, authentic and full of heart, Amelia will help you adjust to life with a newborn. Whether you're a new parent or adding to your family, The Fourth Trimester provides you with all the support, practical advice and encouragement you need to navigate this beautiful and challenging time.

BROKEN BRAINS

JAMILA RIZVI & ROSIE WATERLAND

For anyone who's been sick or loved someone who was sick

A personal book about physical brain health and mental brain health, and how they coexist in two very different spaces.

Jamila Rizvi was 31 years old when doctors diagnosed the rare brain tumour she'd unknowingly had since birth. At the time, Jamila assumed the pain and shock of that day couldn't be equalled. She was wrong. What followed were years of surgeries, radiation treatments and visits to the emergency department, along with the accumulation of complex disabilities that changed Jamila's brain and body forever.

Rosie Waterland doesn't have a 'diagnosis day' story because her broken brain is the result of childhood trauma, abuse and neglect. Mental illness has influenced every aspect of Rosie's life, shaping her relationships, career and body, as much as her brain.

In this honest and revealing memoir, Jamila and Rosie share their parallel experiences of becoming and being sick, alongside those of others who've been there before. Together, they ask why we still take mental illness less seriously than physical illness and what it would mean for that to change.

SO WHAT? NOW WHAT? OSHER GÜNSBERG & CAM WALKER

So What? Now What? is a step-by-step guide to getting you out of whatever rut you find yourself in, and back into action.

After finding freedom from life-threatening mental anguish using Acceptance Commitment Therapy, Osher's own story is the backbone of this illustrated dialogue between a narrator frozen by self-limiting thoughts and uncertainty about the future, and a literal 'helping hand', as conceived by the brilliantly surreal mind of Campbell Walker.

This book offers valuable insight into how some of the most challenging thoughts and feelings need not limit a person. In fact, they can be the gateway to being alive in the moment, true to your values and back on course to a life of joy and fulfilment.

Osher has a significant public profile and audience across television, podcast and radio. As well as his popular podcast Better Than Yesterday, he continues to make thought-provoking documentaries.

A WOMAN'S EYE, HER ART

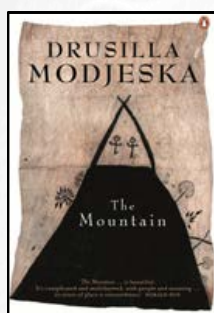

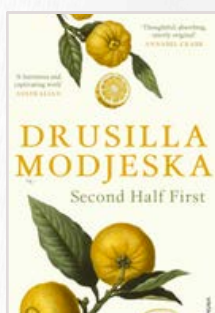

DRUSILLA MODJESKA

Discover the untold stories of six groundbreaking European modernist women who defied societal norms to reshape the world of art. In A Woman's Eye, Her Art we delve into the lives and works of Paula Modersohn-Becker, Clara Westhoff, Claude Cahun, Gabriele Munter, Lee Miller, and Dora Maar. These artists navigated the complexities of sexuality, art forms, and cultural heritage, leaving an indelible mark on how women's bodies and art are perceived.

Drawing inspiration from Drusilla Modjeska's acclaimed Stravinsky's Lunch, this compelling exploration by Modjeska connects past struggles to present-day challenges, examining the intricate relationship between gender, art, and societal expectations. A Woman's Eye, Her Art is a poignant reflection on the enduring impact of these visionary women and their relevance to modern women today.

This beautiful book, richly illustrated and elegantly written, shines a spotlight on the work of hitherto sidelined women artists.

TILL DEATH DO US PART

LAUREN ZONFRILLO

Life without Jock, and learning to live with intention

A searing, yet intimate journey through love, loss, parenting through grief and finding the strength to move forward.

It is difficult to take myself back to the beginning, and even more difficult to share such a private time in my life. But I will. It's how I will find meaning from the loss, from the universe robbing the kids and me of an extraordinary father and husband, by paying it forward to you.

In this deeply personal and heartfelt memoir, Lauren Zonfrillo details her journey through grief after the sudden and public loss of her husband, Jock – chef, restaurateur and, of course, beloved MasterChef Australia judge. Thrust into the role of a solo parent, with the overwhelming task of guiding her young children through their grief while managing her own, Lauren has also had to navigate the weight of public expectations and intense media scrutiny.

Lauren shares her path through this devastating time, including missteps, moments of despair and eventual steps towards healing. More than just a compelling read and a look behind the headlines, this book will provide solace to others trying to find their way through loss. And from the first page to the last, Jock is there.

Part memoir, part handbook for grief, with a love story at its core, Till Death Do Us Part is a powerful and unputdownable read.

THE LUCKY SON

LI CUNXIN

Picking up the story in 1988, where Mao's Last Dancer left off, Li has at last been able to return to China after his earlier defection had denied him that opportunity. He and Mary are at the top of their game working with the world's best choreographers at Houston Ballet when devastating circumstances lead Mary to walk away from her career. They relocate to Melbourne where Li must prove himself with the Australian Ballet and Australian audiences. Their star-filled lives are now very different as they face challenges they could not have foreseen.

From here, Li takes readers on this new journey, from the struggle of his early days as a new father in a new country, through a dramatic switch in careers to enable him to better provide for his growing family as well as his family in China via stockbroking, through a breakdown that led to the writing of his first book, and from there to the speaking circuit and the movie that followed and, ultimately to a return to his first love, the ballet world.

INSIDE OUT

KATHLEEN FOLBIGG & TRACEY CHAPMAN

An incredible friendship and fight for justice

Twenty years in jail: Kathleen Folbigg's extraordinary story of wrongful conviction, and how science, advocacy and friendship freed her. In 2003 Kathleen Folbigg was convicted of killing her four babies. Her trial relied on her husband's accusations and diary entries expressing her guilt over her children's deaths. She was sentenced to forty years in prison.

Kathleen takes us back to her traumatic childhood, her difficult marriage, her dream of nurturing a family, and the profound souring of that dream into a nightmare.

Tracy Chapman and Kathleen were close at school. After Kathleen was jailed, Tracy renewed contact and, convinced her friend could never have committed such crimes, began advocating for her with extraordinary tenacity. She never doubted Kathleen's innocence, relentlessly petitioning for new evidence to be examined, and for a new approach to be taken as doubts about the safety of the conviction grew among scientists and the legal community.

Ultimately, these two women together faced down a misogynistic justice system and forged a friendship that supported Kathleen as she endured the trauma of the prison system. And finally, after many devastating setbacks, came the leaps forward needed to overturn one of the biggest miscarriages of justice in Australia's history: in 2023 Kathleen was released, pardoned and exonerated.

VINCENT FANTAUZZO

Sometimes tragic, often hilarious but always deeply moving

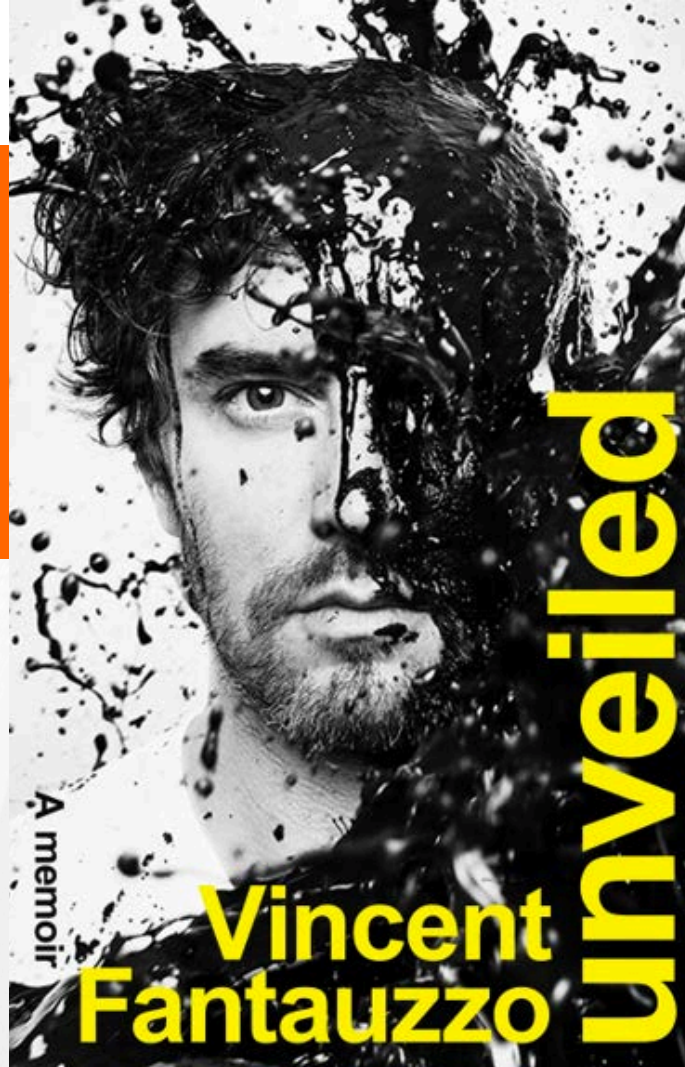

The incredible true story of how a street-fighting petty criminal, who was kicked out of school at fourteen, became one of Australia's most celebrated and successful portrait artists.

Raised amid poverty and violence on the poor streets of Melbourne, Vincent Fantauzzo was just a boy when he accepted he would either die very young, become a gangster or end up behind bars. Tormented by a troubled home life and dismissed as a simpleton at school where he struggled to read and write, Vincent projected a violent and frightening persona as a means of self-protection. Inside that tough exterior, however, lived a thoughtful, sensitive and creative boy whose only wish was to be loved – and to one day break free of the intergenerational dysfunction he seemed doomed to inherit.

He could never have imagined how far his dream of a better life – and an uncanny knack for drawing – would take him.

Today his work hangs in galleries around the world including the National Portrait Gallery and Federal Parliament House in Canberra. He's sold out international exhibitions, won the Archibald Prize People's Choice Award more times than any artist and taken out the Doug Moran Portrait Prize. Twice.

Sometimes tragic, often hilarious but always deeply moving, Unveiled is a paint-spattered, star-studded, white-knuckle ride full of humour and a boundless love for people and a life better lived.

GOODBYE GOOD GIRL, HELLO ME KASEY EDWARDS

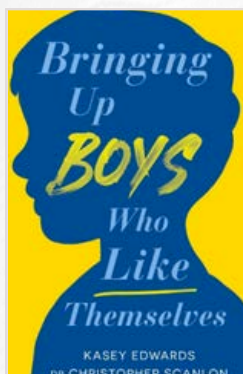

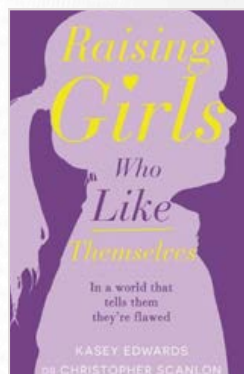

Becoming a woman who likes herself

What happens when you want to stop feeling like you're never enough?

Kasey Edwards highlights all the subtle ways little girls are taught toxic rules about womanhood when they are too young to think critically about them. These rules became as natural and as invisible as the air we breathe.

How can women trust their own judgement when from a young age they aren't encouraged to form their own opinions or trust their own instincts? From early childhood, girls are given strict guidelines for how they should look and what they should wear. They are taught that they cannot be trusted to manage their own appetites ('that's quite enough dessert for you, young lady'), or that they must ignore their own feelings and boundaries to avoid offending others – always with a priority placed on how they are perceived by others rather than how they feel about themselves.
